HOBSON PERSISTENT.

Richmond Pearson Hobson is disposed to inflict his war scare speech upon the people at every opportunity. The members of the Denver convention were in victims yesterday.

Mr. Ormonde, of Florida, moved Hobson be invited to address the convention. Mingled with cheers were many cries of "No! No!"

Chairman Bell put the motion to a viva voce vote, and there was a rousing storm of "aye" and "no," some of the delegates supplementing their negative votes by demands of "Give us committee reports; we want to do business."

The chairman decided that the vote was a tie. "It is therefore the privilege of the chair to cast the deciding vote, and I cast it in the affirmative," declared the chair.

Cheers and a few hisses followed Hobson to the stand.

After Hobson had been speaking for fifteen minutes, the crowd began to grow restless, and cries of "Time!" came from floor and galleries.

Chairman Bell called for order, saying the speaker would conclude in a few minutes.

In concluding his address, Mr. Hobson declared that, if the democratic party were successful in the election, he believed it would, before the end of four years, have a great foreign war on its hands.

Instantly there came from the convention a chorus of mingled groans, catcalls, hisses and cries of "No! No!"

Hobson was determined to finish his address as soon as he was given an opportunity to do so.

"My countrymen, my message is nearly through," said Mr. Hobson, when he had attention. A cry of "Amen!" sent a gale of laughter over the hall.

"I want to say to you," went on Hobson, gritting his teeth in determination, "that not so very long ago the president of the United States said in my presence, 'There exists the great probability of a war with Japan.'"

"No! No! Come off!" shouted the crowd, and there was an outburst of cries which continued for several minutes.

"Gentlemen," said Chairman Bell, "this speaker will be allowed to finish, and if he is interrupted again by the galleries, the sergeant-at-arms will be directed to clear them."

"If this great war comes," said Mr. Hobson, with intense earnestness, "the party upon which the responsibility comes will be ground to powder. I believe that at this juncture we should place the responsibility where it belongs—upon the party now in power, and which has neglected to provide adequate coast defenses."

"The chair wishes to say a word or two," said the chairman as soon as the tumult that followed Hobson's retreat had given him a chance to speak, and he then added:

"The chair hails from the Pacific coast, and up to the present moment he has seen no occasion to enlist."

Colonel Haldeman, of Kentucky, was recognized by the chair and, standing at his place in the center aisle, he asserted that the convention had business to transact and ought to proceed to it without further flights of oratory. Colonel Haldeman then proceeded to take issue with Mr. Hobson, declaring that the United States has 22 first-class battleships and Japan but 16. "And I want to say that we are not afraid of Japan, or any body else on the face of the globe," continued Colonel Haldeman amid applause.

Help for Those Who Have Stomach Trouble.

After doctoring for about twelve years for a bad stomach trouble, and spending nearly five hundred dollars for medicine and doctors' fees, I purchased my wife one box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, which did her so much good that she continued to use them and they have done her more good than all of the medicine I bought before.—SAMUEL BOYER, Folsom, Iowa. This medicine is for sale by W. F. Creighton & Co. and Richard Gibson. Samples free.

LIABLE FOR SUICIDES.

Damages of $1,000, given by a jury in Judge Gibbons' court in Chicago yesterday, establishes a precedent in Illinois which bodes no good for the saloonkeepers of the state. By its finding the jury decided that a saloonkeeper who sold liquor to a man to the extent that the buyer committed suicide was financially liable. The case on trial was that of Mrs. Julia Chullek, against John Abramovicz, a saloonkeeper. Chullek, it was charged, while under the influence of liquor, obtained in Abramovicz's saloon, committed suicide, and the widow sued the saloonkeeper and the Peter Hand Brewing Company. For months prior to Chullek's suicide, it was averred, he had been a patron of Abramovicz's saloon. A number of times, Mrs. Chullek declared she went to the saloon and warned Abramovicz to refrain from selling or giving drinks to her husband. He paid no attention to her warning and ordered her to leave the place. Twice in the New York courts, it is said, judgments in similar cases have been returned, but this verdict is the first of its kind in Illinois.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

THURSDAY EVENING, JULY 9, 1908.

WHILE AWAITING the inevitable result of the proceedings at Denver in the nomination of William J. Bryan the people have an opportunity to contrast the elements composing the republican and democratic national conventions. It is an indisputable truth that the delegates assembled at Chicago were for the most part willing tools of the Roosevelt administration. In the galleries of the convention at the same time were gathered thousands of well-paid officeholders from all regions of the land, eager to do the bidding of their chieftain. For nearly a year the administration had worked with its widely extended official apparatus in order to secure delegates from the different states, territories and colonies. This was especially the case with regard to the southern states whose delegates to Chicago had no constituencies, white or black, behind them. Add to the postmasters, the collectors of customs and internal revenues and all the rest of the official host, the representatives of the great trusts and monopolies, and there is presented a political convention as far removed as possible from genuine sympathy with the masses of the people. Of such a body the candidates and the platform are the natural products. The head of the ticket, a life-long bureaucrat, nominated by the orders of President Roosevelt; his associate, a concession to the stand-pat majority in Congress; and the platform a curious mixture of the "politics" of the dictator and of the wishes of the trusts and corporations that pour out their money in lavish streams to corrupt the elections. Contrast for a moment, says the Philadelphia Record, the forces that dominated the convention at Denver, and the democrats may claim with pride that their national assembly is a true representative of the American people. From the forbidding influences that controlled the republican convention the democratic party is free. No decrees of the spoliatory wealth that is found in the tariff-nouished trusts and monopolies are obeyed or even heard at Denver. No bureaucracy with a Roosevelt at its head has any share in making the democratic nominations for president and vice-president. Neither William J. Bryan nor any other of the distinguished democrats whose names are before the Denver convention exercises any control over government patronage. None of them has the money power behind him. The trusts that are despoiling the people by favor of republican legislation are the sworn enemies of all of them. As for the political machines, of which the democratic party is not wholly free, the proceedings at Denver happily demonstrate that they possess little or no influence over the deliberations of the national convention. In marking the great contrast presented by the elements in the two national conventions the independent citizens of the country, who arbitrate between parties, can hardly fail to make a wise choice.

GENERAL LANGLOIS, an officer of the French army, has aroused much uneasiness among his countrymen by asserting that the morale and discipline of the military forces of France are in an alarming state of degeneration. All the military enthusiasm of Napoleon's day, he remarks, has evaporated, patriotism is rapidly becoming a thing of the past and the military organization of the republic controlled, even in the minutest details, by politics and politicians. Promotions, furloughs, permits to men in the lowest ranks of the army to marry, says General Langlois, are all subject to the control of civil magisterates in each prefecture, the result being complete disorganization in the army. This is hardly an exaggerated description of the condition of affairs in the United States army.

A MASS MEETING was held in the public park and driveway at Manila, on July fourth at which a petition requesting the American Congress to enact legislation that would give the Philippine Islands equal trade advantages with Porto Rico was adopted. Spain was a hard master to the islanders, it is claimed, but she at least held her doors wide open to their trade. The influence of the sugar planters and tobacco growers was not as potent at Madrid as was the influence of the tobacco trust and the sugar trust, with its beet sugar annex, in Congress and in the republican national convention at Chicago. Manila cigars were as welcome in Spain as Havanas, and Philippine sugar did not suffer because of a partiality of the Spaniards for the Cuban article.

IN the first six monthes of 1908 the steerage departures from this country were 191,078 more than the arrivals. In the same part of 1907 the steerage arrivals exceeded the departures by 583,956. The net difference between the two half-years, then, is 775,034. That ought to go a good way, of itself, to offset the decreased demand for labor in the past half-year.

A CHICAGO jury has decided that a saloonkeeper must pay $1,000 damages to the widow of a man who committed suicide while intoxicated.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

It is probable that some plan will be evolved in Washington to prevent the revolutionary spirit from spreading in Central America. Senor Creel, the Mexican Ambassador, with the ministers from four or the five Central American republics, today called on acting Secretary of State Bacon to discuss the matter. The greatest alarm at present is caused by the dispatches from Nicaragua, stating that troops are being recruited to aid Honduras. As the latter is named neutral ground by the terms of the peace convention, such action would precipitate general hostilities. Senor Mejia received assurance from Salvador today that the provisions of the peace agreement were being maintained and that the country was taking no part in the revolutionary activity. Similar assurances were made by the other ministers. Senor Creel was closeted with Secretary Bacon a long while today.

According to a dispatch from St. Louis, the police there have apprehended Albert M. Raymond for whom the District detective force has been searching for nearly four years. In May, 1903, Raymond was arrested on a charge or circulating a libel against Mayor Sylvester, head of the police department here; Building Inspector Ashford and the District commissioners, branding them with assassination, corruption and graft in the issuance of building permits. Subsequently Raymond, who is sixty years of age, was convicted of criminal libel in the local court. He appealed the decision to the Court of Appeals and the case finally went to the Supreme Court. Here the verdict of the lower court was sustained. Meanwhile Raymond was out on bond. Before he could be brought before the Court of Appeals, he left town. Since that time he has been a fugitive from justice. The last news heard of Raymond was a false clue that he had been caught in New York.

Another chapter in the fight Pennsylvania ice shippers are waging against railroads transporting their product to tidewater points was written today when the Mountain Ice Co. and the Trout Lake Ice Co., the one with headquarters at Hoboken, N. J., and the other at Scranton, Pa., filed complaints against the Erie, Pennsylvania and other railroads, alleging the formation of a combine to extort unreasonable rates. The ice men claim that on June 22, 1906, the rates on ice to tidewater points from their storage houses at Pecono Lake, and in Monroe county, Pa., were raised—in the language of the complaint. "We believe and expect to prove at the hearing of this case, by concerted action between representatives of the several railoads, contrary to the spirit and intent of the interstate commerce act and contrary to the laws of the United States." The contention of the Pennsylvania icemen is that they are unable to compete with ice marketed from Hudson and Maine river points and brought by barge to tidewater points unless the present rate is reduced. The two complaining plants employ 800 men, have invested $780,000 in the business and average 500,000 tons shipping each season This is the second complaint brought by the ice interests, alleging practically the same evasion of the law.

According to a dispatch from St. Louis the police have apprehended Albert M. Raymond for whom the district detective force has been searching for nearly four years. In May, 1903, Raymond was arrested on a charge of circulating a libel against Major Sylvester, head of the police department here; building inspector Ashford, and several other officials and branding them as assassins and charging corruption and graft in the issuance by them of building permits. Subsequently Raymond, who is 60 years of age, was tried and convicted of criminal libel in the local court. He appealed to the court of appeals and the case finally went to the supreme court. Here the verdict of the lower court was sustained. Meanwhile Raymond was out on bond. Before the mandate could be carried to the court of appeals he disappeared. Since that time he has been a fugitive from justice.

Benard L. Smith, of 700 12th street, Norfolk, Va., was found in an unconscious condition this morning in the vestibule of 922 I street, northwest. He was removed to the Emergency hospital where he was found to be suffering from concussion of the brain.

A FATHER'S THREAT.

"If the jury acquits that man, I shall kill him when he reaches the street."

This threat, uttered by the father of 10-year-old Laura Palmura, caused a sudden interruption to the trial of Joseph Morra, charged with assaulting the girl, in the Hustings Court of Richmond yesterday afternoon. The man was taken into custody.

The grand jury indicted Morra on the story told by the girl, who was employed at a local tobacco plant. Yesterday she told in court that she was assaulted on February 21. It was proved that at that time she was at work. The jury acquitted Morra.

Palmura went to Richmond from New York. In that city his wife and three children perished in a burning tenement.

"The Real Bryan," just published by the Personal Help Publishing Company of Des Moines, Iowa, and a copy of which we have just received, is a book in which every one will be interested, as it contains the best things spoken or written by William Jennings Bryan on over 150 subjects, political and non-political. Every issue in the coming campaign is discussed; also Mr. Bryan's position on world politics. There is hardly a subject in the book that is not of vital interest to the American people. The price is $1.25; sold by mail and subscription.

Teele claims that the gun was aimed at him and both hammers were cocked.

BIG FIRE IN BOSTON.

A fire, believed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion or a locomotive spark and fanned by a brisk northwest wind, swept nearly a quarter of a mile of the harbor front of east Boston late yesterday, causing a property loss estimated at nearly $1,500,000. Much of the loss falls upon the Boston and Albany Railroad. Daniel Sullivan, a watchman, at the Cunard Line pier, is thought to have perished in the flames.

Within an hour of the time the fire was discovered four piers, three warehouses, a grain elevator containing 30,000 bushels of grain, and many loaded freight cars had been destroyed.

Several vessels and lighters narrowly escaped destruction. The big Leyland Line steamer Devonian, which arrived yesterday from Liverpool, was moored at one of the piers which was destroyed. The discipline on the Devonian was so excellent, however, that she was warped out into the stream without even having a square inch of paint blistered.

Less fortunate were the British bark Belmont, of Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, and the schooners Paul Palmer, a five-masted craft, and the O. H. Brown, a four-masted schooner. By the time the Belmont was gotten out into the stream the paint had been burned off her hull, her cabins had been practically destroyed, her lifeboats charred and ruined, and her spars, sails, and rigging so badly burned as to make a complete new equipment necessary. The Palmer escaped with slight damage to her foretopsail and forerigging, while the rigging, sails, and spars on the forward part of the Brown were badly charred.

Several hundred men who were employed in warehouses at the scene of the fire were forced to flee for their lives so rapid was the progress of the flames.

THE DENVER CONVENTION.

The Gazette's report of the democratic national convention at Denver closed yesterday while the demonstration caused by Senator Gore's speech eulogizing Mr. Bryan was in progress. In the parade of standards Georgia was the only state which did not take part.

At 2:30 o'clock, after the demonstration had been in progress for one hour and 17 minutes, Chairman Bell made his first effort to stop the tumult, pounding with some vigor on the desk with a big gavel. Cries of "Sit down," and some hisses were heard, but there was a distinct falling off in the volume of sound and some progress toward restored order was made after five minutes of continuous pounding.

One hour and 27 minutes after Gore had mentioned the name of Bryan a majority of the state standards were in the proper places and the demonstration was practically ended, although scattered cheers were still rising from all parts of the hall. Hisses came with them and these had some effect in quieting the demonstration. At 2:50 p. m. Senator Gore resumed his speech.

"My countrymen," he said, "to the greater and older states of this great republic, Oklahoma has only this to say; " 'Go thou and do likewise.' "

Cheers and applause greeted Senator Gore as he made his way from the platform.

The Chair recognized Ollie James, of Kentucky, who moved that a recess until 8 p. m. be taken.

Mr. Bell put the motion and, without waiting for a negative vote, declared it carried and the session was ended.

At last night's session the galleries were well filled long before the first delegates and alternates began to make their appearance. A great crowd of sightseers was gathered outside the auditorium.

With the vast audience in its place, the night scene was a brilliant one.

The officers of the convention and the members of the credentials committee were in a panic as the time approached for opening the convention, because the majority report of the committee was missing. The precious document was in the possession of the stenographer, and he could not be found. The same individual was also in possession of a speech to be delivered by Representative James, of Kentucky, who was also in mental distress because of the absence of his oration.

Chairman Callaghan, of the credentials committee, finally went to Chairman Bell with the information that he could not find his report and suggested that some speakers fill in the time that must elapse before the missing report was found.

The convention officials decided that no work should be undertaken that night except to consider the report of the credentials committee. Debate on the majority and minority report, it was agreed, should be limited to 30 minutes on each side. The report of the committee on permanent organization and the speech of Chairman Clayton went over until today.

Col. Halderman, of Kentucky, replied to Mr. Hobson taking issue with him on his war scare.

At 8.30 o'clock the report of the committee on credentials was brought to the hall, but Chairman Bell had wandered off, and the delegates and spectators put in another period of inactivity while pages and messengers were scouring the hall to bring the chairman to his desk and duty.

It was 8.37 o'clock when the business of the evening was taken up. Mr. Ormonde, of Florida, was recognized to move that Representative Richmond Pearson Hobson, of Alabama, be invited to address the convention.

Among the cheers for "Hobson, Hobson," were many cries of "No, no."

Chairman Bell put the motion to a viva voce vote and there was a rousing storm of "aye" and "no" some of the delegates supplementing their negative votes by demands of "Give us committee reports; we want to do business."

"Please permit the Chair to announce the result," said the chairman as soon as he could be heard above the confusion. "I have a very sensative ear and I decide that the vote is a tie. It is, therefore, the privilege of the Chair to cast the deciding vote. I cast it in the affirmative."

And Congressman Hobson was invited to address the convention.

Chairman Bell, announced that the committee on credentials would not be ready to report for several minutes.

"This afternoon," said Chairman Bell, "I sent a committee down into the New York delegation to escort to the platform Senator Charles A. Towne"——

That was as far as the chairman was allowed to proceed, and Mr. Towne took the rostrum amid much applause.

Mr. Towne kept strictly to the promise he made at the opening of his speech, when he said that he would occupy but little of the time of the convention. His address was brief, and he left the platform with the distinctly expressed goodwill of the convention.

"Taylor! Taylor!" cried many of the delegates.

Mr. Callaghan, of Massachusetts, chairman of the committee on credentials, was in the aisle clamoring for recognition when Senator Taylor, of Tennessee, was escorted to the stage by a number of his constituents.

He was introduced by Chairman Bell amid cheering.

"I have only a few words to say, a brief message from the South," he said. "That message is this, wipe out the sectional line so far as politics is concerned. "We are one people of one common impulse. Nothing can wipe out that line. The great conflict which put 'Yankee Doodle' on the pension list and 'Dixie' on crutches could not wipe it out. We are all one people still. Let us nominate the plumed knight of the west, who has grown stronger through two defeats, and who comes before the people today as the almost unanimous choice of the democrats as the standard-bearer. For vice-president we have a lot of distinguished men floating about in the air. I think we can induce some of them to take a place on the ticket. They are like the old man in the mountains who swore off drinking, but took a bottle of whisky home with him and said to his wife: "Honey, I have sworn off drinking whisky, but here is a bottle for a precaution, and if I get sick and don't want to take it, why, make me take it."

A gale of laughter interrapted the speaker, who soon concluded with a brief tribute to Mr. Bryan.

As Senator Taylor retired the chairman announced, "Gentlemen of the convention, we are now going to get down to hard work. The committee on credentials is ready to report.

Then came the most important business thus far of the convention.

Mr. Callaghan then read the report.

The committee recommended the unseating the McCarren delegates from Kings county, New York, giving seats to the anti-Guffey delegates from Pennsylvania, and seating the Johnson delegates from Ohio, the Sullivan delegates from Illinois and the Dubois delegates from Idaho.

Mr. Callaghan claimed in presenting his report that the Guffey delegates from Philadelphia were corruptly elected at the primaries in Pennsylvania, and that they were elected by republicans voting at the democratic primaries. Mr. Callaghan concluded, and was followed by Mr. Straus, of Maryland, who presented the minority report. He said "the majority's action is an unpardonable attack upon the democracy of a sovereign state." He claimed the delegates from Pennsylvania represent the democratic party of Pennsylvania which had been recognized for the past twenty-five years. He said that a dog, much less a democrat, should not be driven from the convention upon the grounds such as the contestants present. After speeches in behalf of the two reports the chair ordered a roll call on the motion to substitute the minority for the majority report.

The vote on the minority report, which favored seating the Guffey delegates from Pennsylvania, was 387 for and 615 against. This was the first and probably the only test vote in the convention. It showed a Bryan victory, but by a smaller majority than predicted.

The Virginia delegation voted 22 to 2 for the minority report.

The convention then adjourned until this morning.

Mr. Bryan was deeply affected when he was told of the demonstration and said: "The democrats have been very good to me, and I can find no words to express my deep appreciation of the confidence and good will which the demonstration indicates."

Denver, July 9.—In the hope of being able to report a completed platform to the national convention immediately after the conclusion of the speech of Permanent Chairman Clayton, the political carpenters took an unusually early start today. The general sub-committee of the full platform committee got together at 8:00 o'clock to receive the reports of the sub-committee to which had been referred the preparation of planks on various subjects.

The committees during the night agreed upon practically all the planks in question. Those on injunction, railroads, currency and trusts were yet to be agreed upon when the general committee met this morning to formulate its report to the full committee which is scheduled to meet at 9 o'clock.

Before the national convention was called to order at 11 o'clock the indications were that there would be considerable debate in the full resolutions committee on some of the important planks, especially those with reference to injunctions, currency, tariff railroads, trusts and waterways.

The general opinion was, however, that the finished product would be a platform entirely acceptable to Bryan.

Among the propositions that were practically certain to be adopted were the following: "Approval of anti-pass and anti-rebate laws; prohibiting corporations from making campaign contributions and providing for publicity; the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people; recommending a constitutional amendment permitting an income tax; the enlargement of the powers of railroad commissions, state and national; favoring postal savings banks; the adjustment of disputes between labor and capital; urging an employer's liability bill applicable to both public and private employers; putting wood pulp on the free list; opposing the admission of Asiatic emigrants who cannot be amalgamated with our populations or whose presence would raise race issues; anti-injunction plank requiring notice to be given before issuance that no writ shall remain in force for longer than a specified number of days, and that in cases of contempt committed outside the presence of the court the defendant shall have right of trial by jury; reduction of tariff on trust made goods and general revision of tariff to restore it to a revenue basis; admission of Arizona and New Mexico as separate states; denunciation of the Aldrich-Vreeland currency bill and recommendation of an emergency currency to be issued by the federal government and to national banks under proper guarantee; extermination of trusts; enactment of a law to prevent duplication of directors among competing corporations; adoption of a license system to protect the public from watered stock; economy in the administration; condemning the misuse of patronage; upholding the merchant marine service; averse to the use of the navy for the collection of private debts; demanding home rule for the people of each state, and the prohibition of control by any corporation of more than fifty per cent of the total of any productions in the United States.

While the platform polishers were putting on the finishing touches, the New York delegation was holding a caucus to determine how it should stand on the presidential and vice-presidential situation. It was confidently predicted before the meeting that a large majority of the delegation would favor Bryan, thus casting the entire vote of the state, under the unit rule, for the Nebraskan.

Denver, July 9.—Ollie James, the big congressman from Kentucky, announced this morning that it was the intention of the leaders, if possible, to put through the permanent organization of the convention and adopt the platform during the afternoon's session and then adjourn until tonight to nominate Bryan.

The vice presidential candidate would then be nominated tomorrow and the convention adjourned sine die before tomorrow night.

The following is the text of the anti-injunction plank as tentatively agreed upon by the subcommittee of the committee on resolutions:

The democratic party recent any attempted reflection upon the judiciary of the country. Courts themselves are not only created by law, but their jurisdiction and authority are defined by law and their rules of procedure are fixed by law.

The platform of 1896, 1900 and 1904 dealt with the subject of anti-injunction and events have shown that it was justified in taking the position it assumed in those documents.

The federal law, which was passed in 1798, and continued in force until 1872, should be re-enacted. This law requires notice to be given before preliminary injunctions should issue.

The democratic party pledges itself to enact all further laws providing that no injunction or restraining order shall remain in force for a period still to be determined. (Some went three, some five and others ten days.) In cases of contempt committed outside the presence of the court, the defendant shall have the right of trial by jury.

The New York delegation at a caucus this morning re-elected Norman E. Mack national committeeman and adopted the unit rule.

The Connecticut delegates today decided that Judge John J. Walsh, of Norwalk, should present the name of Archibald McNeil for vice president. They adopted the unit rule on the vice presidency and decided against a second choice, pledging the delegation "to vote for McNeil until nominated."

The Michigan delegation in caucus voted in favor of ex- Gov. Douglass, of Massachusetts, for vice president. Massachusetts, however, is not going to name Douglass.

Temporary Chairman Bell called the convention to order at 11:30 a. m., when Rabbi Samuel Koch offered prayer.

At the close of the rabbi's prayer the report of the committee on permanent organization naming Mr. Clayton as permanent chairman was presented and adopted.

Chairman Clayton then began his speech.

As Chairman Clayton started to speak three little girls, garbed in the stars and stripes, ascended the rostrum and presented him with magnificent bouquets of roses. This was a pleasing incident that was followed by an outburst of cheering and handclapping.

The mention of Grover Cleveland by Clayton was greeted with enthusiastic applause.

At 1:06 Mr. Clayton concluded his speech when Mr. Kein, of Indiana, moved that a committee be appointed to ask the resolutions committee when it would be ready to present its report.

A committee was then appointed to wait on the resolutions committee after which Chairman Clayton invited Mr. Raymond Robins, of Chicago, to address the convention.

Mr. Robins took the stand and was speaking when this report closed.

LATER.

The resolutions committee will report at 7 p. m., to which time the convention recessed.

The presence of Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth at the national democratic convention has greatly pleased the delegates and a general desire to pay appropriate tribute to her is being manifested. A resolution appreciating her presence was prepared and will be introduced later.

Rioting and Bloodshed.

Odessa, July 9.—Rioting and bloodshed and the merciless slaughter by the Cossack soldiers broke out in Tabriz again today.

A food famine is the cause of the latest outbreak. Thousands of the citizens of the stricken city early this morning began a bread riot in the streets.

Mobs of starving persons made raids on the bakeshops and provision houses The soldiers and cavalrymen were quick to respond and they charged the frantic hunger-mad mobs.

The fight now raging is more bitter than in any of the previous encounters, for this time the rioters are goaded on by the knowledge that a more terrible death than that by the bayonets of the soldiers will follow their surrender.

Women and children joined in the rioting and fell with the men in the blood-stained streets. The casualties of the day will run into the hundreds, and no one can predict what the end will be for a large part of the population is crazed with hunger and can no longer be held under repression.

Tabriz has suffered from a partial famine for some weeks, even the plainest of bread being a luxury in hundreds of homes. Since the investment of the city by soldiers, however, the situation has become much more grave, as the soldiers get supplies of food for themselves and are living in luxury while hundreds of the population have been subsisting on black cakes made of grass, with a small mixture of flour.

Confers With Candidate.

Hot Springs, Va., July 9.—Frank T. Hitchcock, the newly chosen chairman of the republican national committee, arrived here today and at once entered into conference with Candidate Taft.

After the first stage of the conference it was stated that there will be no announcement of the personnel of the executive committee for a week, but that it was probable all on it would be members of the national committee, and that they will be so chosen as to be representative of every section of the country. An advisory committee from the country at large will also be chosen. Hitchcock will leave Hot Springs tomorrow night.

An Ohio delegation, Robert Reynolds, T. J. Moffett, J. Stacey Hill, William B. Melish and John R. Malloy are here to present to Taft a tentative programme for the notification ceremonies at Cincinnati, July 26.

Party leaders here say that the fact of Vorys having been chosen to manage the Ohio national campaign and the Taft headquarters is an important and significant one. It indicates, they think, that Hitchcock is to have anything but a free hand in the campaign.

Fire at Coney Island.

New York, July 9.—More than a quarter of a million went up in smoke early today in a fire which nearly wiped out Coney Island. Two famous hotels, Vanderver's and Pabst's, were destroyed and 25,000 persons saw their guests leap for life from blazing windows. Scores of men and women in all stages of undress leaped to burned awnings when the flames started. In hardly a single case did they save a dollar of all their belongings. Mrs. Frank Clayton, wife of the proprietor of Pabst's, alone lost $10,000 in diamonds. The fire started in an artificial shrubbery at Pabst's, and for a time threatened the destruction of Luna Park, Dreamland and Steeplechase Park, three of Coney's biggest resorts. Only a sudden change of wind prevented a loss of many millions.

One Thousand Persons Drowned.

Constantinople, July 9.—One thousand persons were drowned by a flood that wiped out the town of Tokat, on the Yeshil-Irmak river in Asia Minor, according to a news agency report.

Expenses of Candidates.

[Special dispatch to the Alexandria Gazette.]

Richmond, July 9.—According to his sworn statement, forwarded to the Secretary of the Commonwealth, R. Lindsey Gordon spent $3,678 in his canvass for Congress in the Eighth district. His successful opponent, Congressman Carlin, has not filed his statement. Congressman Glass, of the Sixth district, who had no opposition, swears that his expenses were confined to a two-cent stamp.

Will Withdraw from the Race.

Reno, Nev., July 9.—Upon the advice of his attorney who fear that his candidacy will injure his chances in a new trial which they hope to secure for him, Martin R. Preston, nominated for president by the socialist labor party, and now serving a 25-years' sentence for murder here, will withdraw from the race. The announcement was given out today from the state prison. Preston, who was convicted more than 5 years ago of the murder of Antone Silva, a restaurant keeper in Goldfield, was immensely pleased with his nomination and was preparing to conduct an elaborate correspondence school campaign from his cell, when his attorneys vetoed the project.

Killed at Grade Crossing.

Hammonton, N. J., July 9.—Two men are dead here today and four probably fatally injured by a grade crossing accident on Twelfth street when a Reading railroad express struck a rig in which they were riding. The victims were Italian berrypickers. Philip Bruno was driving when the locomotive struck the buggy. The horse was killed and every occupant of the rig thrown high in the air.

Lumber Companies to Combine.

St. Louis, July 9.—A commission was appointed today to work out the details for the preliminary organization of a $300,000,000 combine of lumber companies. The plan is to bring all the big lumber companies into one combine, which, as a holding and operating company, will regulate the business. It is denied by the organizers that any increase in prices is contemplated.

Thief Captured.

New York, July 9.—Braving death on a narrow coping of the Hotel Belmont, fourteen stories above the street, the thief who for ten days had plundered rooms in many of the city's hotels met his fate today. He entered the rooms of Mrs. Josephine Cookson before daylight and when the police arrived Mrs. Cookson's husky husband was sitting on the head of a badly battered burglar.

For more than a week robberies in the Imperial, the Waldorf-Astoria, the Plaza, the Chelsea and the Hotel Belmont, which aggregated thousands of dollars in cash and diamonds, have been reported to headquarters.

With two suit cases, Nathan Levine registered last night in the Belmont. He was given quarters on the fourteenth floor next to those occupied by Mrs. Cookson and her husband. Between the two rooms on the outside of the building there runs a narrow ledge and along this at 3 o'clock this morning Levine groped his way.

Rummaging in the drawers awoke Mrs. Cook-on. "Who's there?" she cried. "Keep quiet," was the thief's reply as he pushed a pistol into the woman's face.

The threat however, awoke Cookson. With one leap he had grasped the burglar, torn the pistol from his grasp and felled him with a blow.

Questioned, the marauder said his name was Nathan Levine and that he had been a biscuit salesman. He gave his age as 20 years.

Interrogated further, Levine admitted having registered in various hotels for the purpose of robbery.

But the motive for his entering the career of robbery was Levine's most astonishing statement. "I am studying French and Italian," he said. "I wished to elevate myself above this life of "trimming people."

The Poisoning of Dr. Wilson.

Philadelphia, July 9.—"A person once connected with the household sent the cyanide-laden ale that killed Dr. W. H. Wilson." This declaration was made today by chief of the detective bureau Leary. "The outraged husband letters," he continued, "are all a blind to throw the police off the track, and I have learned many important facts along this line and probably will make them public in the inquest tomorrow." This alleged new trail is the only promising clue to the slayer of the man who is said to have lived by criminal practice.

Smallpox in Russia.

St. Petersburg, July 9.—An appeal for government aid in checking the ravages of smallpox which is devastating Russia from the White sea to the Black sea and from the Baltic into Siberia was made today by representatives of the affected districts. They declared to the government that unless heroic attempts are made to stamp out the disease Russia will be afflicted with the worst scourge in history. In several districts the death rate is 25 to 30 per cent.

Killed by Collapse of a Building.

St. Petersburg, July 9.—Twenty persons were killed today and twice that number badly injured in the collapse of a large building in course of erection. Most of the victims were workmen on the inside of the building. Several persons who were passing at the time were also caught under the falling walls and crushed to death. The actual number of deaths will not be known until the debris is cleared away.

New York Stock Market.

New York, July 9.—There were enough new buying orders in the market at the opening to carry along the upward movement in the early trading and in the first few minutes prices of the leading stocks made gains ranging from fractions to over one point. At the end of the hour the majority of the stocks were slightly below yesterday's closing.

HAPPY RESULTS OBTAINED

By the Use of the New Scalp Antiseptic.

It wouldn't take long to number the hairs in the heads of some people, the reason being they haven't many to number. In most instances, however, the fault is their own. A germ at the root soon plays havoc with the most luxuriant growth and causes it to face and fall out. A remedy for this has recently been discovered, called Newbro's Herpicide, that acts by destroying the germ that does the damage, besides removing all impurities from the scalp. In addition it germits new life and vigor to enter the scalp, and happy results are sure to be obtained from its use. Try it.

Sold by Ernest L. Allen & Co., agents. Two sizes 50c and $1.00. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. 63

EXCITEMENT AT RIVER VIEW.

Considerable excitement was caused at River View on Tuesday night by the disorderly conduct of a number of soldiers from Forts Washington and Hunt who visited the resort. Twenty-five of them are now under arrest at the fort and it is possible that some will be court-martialed.

Tuesday was pay day at Forts Hunt and Washington and the men visited several little shanties hidden away in the woods on the outskirts of Fort Washington and, it is said, drank freely. Later seventy-five or more of the soldiers went to River View. They had been at the resort but a short time when several of them became involved in an altercation. Blows were struck and a few minutes later a free-for-all fight ensued, in which several civilians participated.

The management of the resort telephoned Fort Washington of the trouble and Capt Macon, in command of a company of men, responded. Meantime the soldiers had transferred the resort into bedlam. Men, women and children fled from the park, as the management was powerless to suppress the trouble.

When Capt. Macon and his men appeared on the scene the rioters resisted arrest, with the result that Capt. Macon ordered his men to take then prisoners at all hazard. This command met with ready response. The detail rushed upon the belligerent, soldiers, but the rioters resisted until exhausted. Then they called on Capt. Macon to let up, and an order was given for his detail to retire.

The rioters, somewhat sobered by the rough treatment they had received, were marched back to Fort Washington and placed under guard.

Captain Macon had one of his arms broken during the conflict with the rioters and many of the soldiers sustained cuts and bruises.

PRESS ASSOCIATION.

Members of the Virginia Press Association arrived in Washington this morning for a two days' visit. They reached the city on the Virginia State boat, Commodore Maury. The editors were met by a committee from the Chamber of Commerce of Washington and their headquarters will be at the Ebbitt House. This afternoon they will be taken on a sight-seeing tour, and this evening on a trip down the river on the steamer Jamestown, at the invitation of the Norfolk and Washington Steamboat Company. They will go to Great Falls tomorrow, accompanied by a committee from the Chamber of Commerce, as guests of the Alexandria County Board of Trade, which will hold its annual outing at the same time. Luncheon will be served at the Falls. In the evening a reception will be held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms in Washington at which it is expected Representative C. C. Carlin, of Alexandria, will speak.

FRUIT DEALER SHOT.

Another attempt to rob Immanuel Tavares, who conducts a fruit store on King street, a short distance west of Peyton street, was made by two negroes, about 10:30 o'clock last night, which resulted in Tavares being shot through the right arm with a ball from a .32 calibre revolver. The negroes after having entered the store, asked Tavares to wrap up five cents worth of bananas, and as he started to execute the order, one of the negroes, he says, drew a revolver and demanded his money. The Brazilian became excited and made an outcry, and the negro who held the pistol pulled the trigger. The negroes thereupon fled from the place. Tavares went to the office of Dr. Walter Warfield, where his wound was dressed. The ball passed entirely through the fleshy part of his arm on the inner side. Other attempts to rob Tavares have been made recently.

ALARM OF FIRE.

The alarm of fire shortly before 7 o'clock yesterday evening was caused by smoke issuing from the stables of the coal yard of Mr. De Wilton Aitcheson on the Strand between Prince and Duke streets. The fire was confined to a stall of one of the horses and it was subdued with a chemical extinguisher. All of the horses were removed to places of safety as soon as the alarm was sounded. The origin of the fire is unknown.

THE DOG WAGON.

The dog wagon which made its appearance on the streets yesterday picked up ten canines which have been deposited in a pen at the city gas works, where they will be kept 48 hours awaiting claimants.

Complaint is made that the collars and tags on licensed dogs are occasionally removed and placed upon unlicensed canines.

RECEIVERS DISMISSED.

In the U. S. Court this morning in the case of W. H. Clark, trustee, vs. the Washington, Arlington and Falls Church Railroad Company, a suit to foreclose a mortgage on the property of the company, by agreement of all parties concerned an order was entered discharging the receivers, Park Agnew and Charles Hine, and turning the property over to its owners. Leave was reserved to parties having claims against the receivers to present the same in this cause by proper pleadings. The petition of R. N. Phillips was dismissed as a party to this suit.

It is understood that the property will be purchased by a syndicate from Philadelphia, headed by Mr. R. A. Chester, and that Mr. Rich, of Philadelphia, will be superintendent of the road.

It is also reported that the road will be extended further back into Virginia, and that the principal owners of the Washington, Alexandria and Mount Vernon Railway compose or are backing the syndicate, which will purchase the first-named road.

CONTESTING THE SEWER LAW.

The case of the owner of six houses on Queen street who has failed to connect the same with the public sewer came up before Justice Caton in the Police Court this morning. The delinquent was represented by Colonel F. L. Smith, who made an argument against the validity of the present law of the City Council forbidding under a penalty any occupier of a house to allow other than rain water to run on a street on which a public sewer has been constructed. The colonel maintained that the law was unconstitutional as it was discriminating and not general in its application and imposed an injustice upon one class of citizens. He read decisions of the Supreme Court where similar issues had been involved and cited instances from which he concluded the law should not be enforced. Justice Caton reserved his decision which will be rendered today or tomorrow.

Sixteen bodies have already been removed from the tangled wreckage, which is known to hold at least four other victims. The collapse was caused by the falling of the scaffold supporting central span to fall and with it went ing the huge crane used in the erection of the central span. This caused the three other spans. The list of dead would have been larger had not the police and fire departments responded and rushed to the rescue in boats, which picked up scores of struggling workmen.

Watch Repairing always has been a hobby of ours, to do the Best Work possible.

Is it always fast or slow? Never quite on time? Perhaps the watch is capable of very accurate running, but it is not in perfect order. You know the tiny mechanism of a watch absolutely demands that each of the dozens of little parts—springs, wheels, jewels, etc.—be just right, or good timing is out of the question.

Changed the Name.

He had given up town life, with its cares and dissipation, and was living in the country.

"What a charming cottage!" exclaimed a dainty lady visitor from London. "What have you called it?"

"I have called it the Nutshell," he told her, and she exclaimed:

"Oh, how delightful!"

After tea and cakes she took the train back to London, where she remained for six months. Then she "ran down" to see him again.

"As sweet as ever!" she told him. "But you have changed the name! Why is it now Chez Nous?"

"Why?" he responded, with some warmth. "Because I was tired of being jollied! Because I was tired of being kidded! There isn't a boy for a mile round who hasn't stopped and rung the doorbell every time he passed to ask if the colonel was in!"—London Telegraph.

A Surprise Coming.

A horse was standing along Chestnut street the other day anchored by an iron weight. The horse, not knowing what else to do to pass away the time, was industriously chewing the strap. A newsboy happened along, and after watching the animal for awhile he grinned a cluster of grins and turned to a man who was standing near.

"Don't say a word," he gleefully remarked. "Old Umpire here is going to have the surprise of his life in a few minutes."

"What is the matter with him?" asked the man, glancing first at the kid and then at the horse.

"Nothin' is the matter with him," was the happy rejoinder of the newsboy. "He may eat the strap all right, but when he gets down to that weight he will think he has struck a boardin' house."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

A "Washing" Mission.

The visiting housekeeper recently described in the New York Sun must be a stout armed angel or she would never have lived to write the entry in her daybook quoted below:

"Washed the sick woman in bed, washed and dressed four children, did the washing, scrubbed two floors, washed the dishes, washed the windows."

A discriminating glance at this entry will disclose the fact that she washed about everything in the house. How the head of the family escaped the wash rag is not stated. Perhaps there was no head.

Smugglers' Philanthropy.

At Broadmoor and Perth, England, the criminal lunatics have a free supply of the most exquisite pipe tobacco, cigars and cigarettes. In fact, they smoke far finer stuff than the average rich man. Yet all this good tobacco costs the government nothing. The smugglers of England pay for the smoking of the criminal insane. It is from her confiscated smuggled tobacco that England fills the tobacco boxes of Perth and Broadmoor.

Not Her Abode.

"My income is small," said a rather dilatory lover, "and perhaps it is cruel of me to take you from your father's roof."

"But I don't live on the roof," was the prompt reply.

According to Chinese law, a wife who is too talkative may be divorced.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy Would Have Saved Him $100.00.

"In 1902 I had a very severe attack of diarrhoea," says R. N. Farrar of Cat Island, La. "For several weeks I was unable to do anything. On March, 18, 1907, I had a similar attack, and took Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which gave me prompt relief. I consider it one of the best medicines of its kind in the world, and had I used it in 1902 believe it would have saved me a hundred dollar doctor's bill." Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co. and Richard Gibson.

It Would Flatter Man.

Few men have deserved and few have won higher praise in an epitaph than the following, which was written by Lord Byron on the tomb of his dead Newfoundland:

"Near this spot are deposited the remains of one who possessed beauty without vanity, strength without insolence, courage without ferocity and all the virtues of man without his vices. This praise, which would be unmeaning flattery if inscribed over human ashes, is but a just tribute to the memory of Boatswain, a dog, who was born at Newfoundland May 3, 1803, and died at Newstead abbey Nov. 18, 1808."

Woman's Reasoning.

Husband (arriving with his wife at the Azcarraga station just as the train steamed out)—There! If you hadn't taken such a fearful time dressing we shouldn't have lost that train. Wife—And if you hadn't hurried me so all the way here we shouldn't have such a long time to wait for the next one.—Philippines Gossip.

At Home.

"He was perfectly at home at the banquet."

"Why, he didn't have a word to say."

"Well, that's being perfectly at home for him."—Houston Post.

Won a Smile.

Attractive Young Lady—I should like "The Wide, Wide World." Chivalrous Bookseller—Were it mine, miss, I would willingly give it to you.—Pathfinder.

None knows the weight of another's burden.—Herbert.

"E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago, Ill.—Gentlemen—In 1897 I had a disease of the stomach and bowels. In the spring of 1902 I bought a bottle of Kodol and the benefit I received all the gold of Georgia could not buy. May you live long and prosper. Yours very truly, C. N. Cornell, Roding, Ga., Aug., 27, 1906." Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.
